American Rescue Plan Act 2023 Grant Funding Request

The Nest Postpartum Support is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization based in Champaign, Illinois. In October of 2021, our team began providing emotional and financial support services to local families with an infant in the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit (NICU) at Carle Foundation Hospital.

Mission Statement

Our mission is to provide community and support to families with children in the NICU. We do this by providing prepared meals, transportation, lodging, gas gift cards, restaurant gift cards, grocery gift cards, emotional support, and assistance with childcare costs for older siblings free of cost to our families. Our goal is to change the narrative about the NICU experience—from a story that’s too often about struggle and isolation to one that focuses on community and support.

History

The Nest Postpartum Support was incorporated on June 6, 2020 and was designated a 501 (c)(3) non-profit organization in April of 2021. Fundraising campaigning took place from May 2021-October 2021 and our team began providing support services to the community on October 4, 2021.

Research Backed Need

Having a child admitted to the NICU and beginning a parenting journey in a highly medical setting is a traumatic and stressful experience for most families. Parents of infants hospitalized in a NICU are at high risk for developing anxiety and depressive symptoms or disorders (Mendelson et al., 2017). During the Covid-19 pandemic, in an effort to reduce the risk of transmission, intensive care units across the United States have reduced parental and family visitation privileges and parent involvement in the unit (Murray et al., 2020).

A review of research regarding the effects of the COVID-19 pandemic on postpartum women's mental health found that new mothers of full-term healthy infants report substantially higher levels of anxiety and depression symptoms compared to similar pre-pandemic cohorts (Yan et al., 2020). More specifically, the authors found that the prevalence rates of anxiety and depression among postpartum women with hospitalized infants during the pandemic were substantially higher than pre-pandemic data. Anecdotally, bedside nurses and other staff have witnessed first hand higher levels of parental stress, anxiety, and fear while visiting their babies in the NICU at Carle Foundation Hospital during the pandemic.

A consequence of visitation restrictions and rules for social distancing is the loss of in-person, peer-to-peer support for NICU parents (Hall et al., 2015). Peer support has a beneficial, normalizing effect on the parental role, emotions, control, trust, coping, and adaptation to parenthood reality (Dahan et al., 2020). There is abundant research which shows that providing peer support is recommended as an integral and crucial component of best practice, family-centered care and comprehensive family support.

Additionally, a 2017 study examined NICU parent involvement and long-term outcomes of the premature baby (Stefana et al., 2017). Increased parental presence helped to shorten infants’ hospital stays. Skin-to-skin contact between parent and child reduces feelings of stress, strengthens bonding, and supports the transition into new parental roles. It also reduces mortality, infections, hospital readmissions, increases the volumes of expressed breastmilk, and the duration of breastfeeding or pumping. Parents reported household work, employment, and lack of support and transportation as the major barriers preventing them from being present during their child's NICU stay.

The Nest Postpartum Support seeks to provide opportunities for mothers and families to be more present at the bedside, alleviating various responsibilities outside of the NICU setting, such as meal preparation, grocery shopping, and finding reliable transportation. Easing the emotional and financial burden of the aforementioned barriers positively impacts long-term outcomes for both mothers and their hospitalized children. Additionally, our care coordination services continue to provide the peer-to-peer engagement that is so crucial to parental mental health, especially during the Covid-19 pandemic.

Area covered

Carle Hospital in Urbana, IL houses a level III NICU that serves the families of Champaign-Urbana, Illinois, as well as many other smaller communities in central Illinois, within a 1-2 hour radius. The services and resources provided by The Nest filled a gap in care and support for families of hospitalized infants that was only exacerbated by the Covid-19 pandemic.

Community Impact

In our first 16 months, we have supported 40 local NICU families and provided $56,671.64 worth of services. This includes 712 gas gift cards, 449 restaurant gift cards, 79 hotel stays, 153 days of childcare for older siblings, 111 prepared meals, 10 transportation passes, and 13 Instacart grocery gift cards. The average length of stay of a family receiving services from The Nest is approximately two months. Upon referral, the family is assigned to a Care Coordinator who communicates with the family regularly and provides emotional support throughout the duration of their child's inpatient stay. We are currently funded by donations from the community, community grants, and merchandise sales.

The Nest is founded, staffed and supported by former NICU parents who have lived the experiences of those we aim to support. We believe families with a child in the NICU should be supported emotionally and financially so that they can focus on the health and wellbeing of their child.

Intended Allocation of ARPA Grant

This fiscal year, we have the goal to support double of the families we served in our first year of operation. We are requesting $120,000 to cover the expansion of services. Funds from the ARPA grant will be used to provide the resources of short-term lodging, transportation, childcare, gas and meals to approximately 80 families facing a long-term NICU stay at Carle Foundation Hospital in Urbana. Our goal, as supported by abundant research, is to eliminate barriers for mothers and families so they can be present and focus on caring for their babies, themselves, and their families.

Who We Are

The Nest Postpartum Support is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization based in Champaign, Illinois.

The Nest was incorporated in 2020, at the height of the COVID pandemic. In October of 2021, our team began providing emotional and financial support services to local families with an infant in the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit (NICU) at Carle Foundation Hospital.

Our goal is also to help change the narrative about the NICU experience — from a story that's too often about struggle and isolation to one that focuses on community and support.

Our Team

The Nest is founded, staffed and supported by former NICU parents who have lived the experiences of those we aim to support.

We believe families with a child in the NICU should be supported emotionally and financially so that they can focus on the health and wellbeing of their child.

We shine a light into what can be a scary and lonely place by providing:

- PREPARED MEALS
- TRANSPORTATION
- LODGING
- GAS GIFT CARDS
- RESTAURANT GIFT CARDS
- GROCERY GIFT CARDS
- EMOTIONAL SUPPORT AND CARE COORDINATION
- ASSISTANCE WITH CHILDCARE COSTS FOR OLDER SIBLINGS
- LINKS TO OTHER LOCAL COMMUNITY SUPPORT PROGRAMS

at no cost to our families.

These services and resources fill a gap in care and support for families of hospitalized infants that was only exacerbated by the Covid-19 pandemic.

See what our families are saying about The Nest:

“It meant a great deal to have the support and help throughout my son’s NICU stay; and the moral support my coordinator provided. We formed a connection through my son and had conversations we could both relate to.”

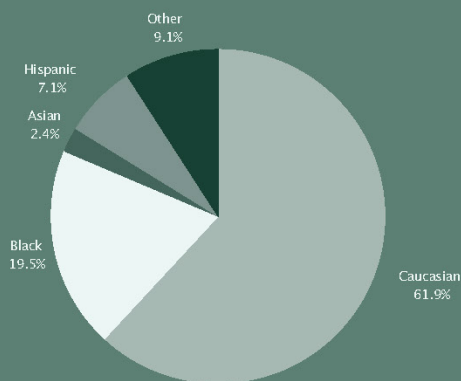

Research Backed Need

The COVID-19 Pandemic SIGNIFICANTLY Impacted NICU Families

- Visitation restrictions
- Reduction in parental involvement
- Loss of peer-to-peer support
- Policies that directly negated best practice in NICU standards of care

Maternal mental health suffered greatly as a result of measures taken to reduce the spread of COVID-19 in hospitals

Population Served

Our team regularly supports mothers experiencing significant stressors such as:
homelessness
domestic violence
death of a child
access to basic resources
